Briggs, carpenter, 37 Peabody St., Norwich, says: "I think my work had a great deal to do with my trouble, as over-lifting seemed to aggravate the pains that were in my back almost constantly. I recommend them to those who are troubled with kidney complaint will know of a good medicine."

Mayor Of Constantinople

IN NORWICH FIFTY YEARS AGO

Fifty years ago Monday of this week, Sedgwick corps, No. 1, G. A. R., carried out Memorial day exercises at the Yantic cemetery, the address of the day being delivered by Rev. M. N. G. Dana. The parade was led by Major B. P. Learned. The members of Sedgwick post wore on that day the new badge which they had just received at that time. The badges were manufactured of rebel cannon.

The republican voters of the city gathered in caucus the same week to nominate a ticket for the city election. Z. C. Crowell was nominated for mayor by the caucus.

Extracts from the files of The Norwich Bulletin of 1870 are as follows: Monday, May 30, 1870—Saturday afternoon an accident took place on Market street which at first threatened serious consequences. A veranda was being removed from the building at the corner of Commerce and Market streets, occupied by J. Conner & Co. James Lynch, a laborer of Preston, was standing beneath it, attaching a tackle to a support. While he was thus engaged, the balcony began to fall and before he could escape came down with a crash, striking him a severe blow on the head and back and knocking him down. Fortunately the falling balcony did not rest upon his body. Mr. Lynch would have been gathered to his fathers. As it was he was rescued and his wounds dressed, after which he was able to go to his home.

The roadbed of the horse railroad was excavated for about 1,200 feet on Saturday, the unusual amount of work accomplished being due to the introduction by Mr. Otis, the contractor, of a new and improved plow, furnished by Barstow & Palmer of this city. By the use of this implement the roughest portions of the road are reduced without other labor and the work effected with ease and rapidity. The survey has been extended just above the Stearns Patent company shop.

Real estate transactions, during the past two weeks have amounted to about $14,000, the largest sale being the transaction of land on Otis street owned by L. W. Carroll to Amasa C. Hall. This transaction involved $4,000.

Tuesday, May 31, 1870—Monday morning broke dark and gloomy and the gray clouds with raw easterly wind seemed to give promise of a speedy rain which would mar the pleasure of the day, but it was fated that if the sun did not brighten the service of the memorial, at least no dreary rain should tend to inspire sad and unhappy thoughts in the breasts of those who would visit the resting places of the cherished fallen. As the day wore on, the clouds grew lighter and the cool, refreshing atmosphere could not have been better adapted for the march and services of the day.

Flowers were collected at the city library and at the steam fire engine house in Greenville and were arranged in bouquets, clusters and garlands by the ladies of the fair. About 10 o'clock the committee of the Grand Army took up the line of march for the decoration of the graves. In the afternoon there were a number of religious exercises at the Yantic cemetery, where the graves of the fallen were decorated. The address of the day was by Rev. M. N. G. Dana.

The members of Sedgwick post on Memorial day each wore the new badge lately received. It is in the shape of a cross, the center of which is a shield, bearing on the shield the inscription "Grand Army of the Republic, 1861, Veteran 1866." On the reverse are the badges of all the army corps.

Wednesday, June 1, 1870—During the past year the school attendance in the state has increased 5,933 while there has been an increase in the number of children in the state of only 432 between the ages of 4 and 16. The total expenditure of money for schools for the same period is $1,255,154, an increase of over $225,000 over the previous year, the gain being more than the total raised for this object by taxation in 1869. The number of school districts in the state in 1870 and the number of children between the ages of 4 and 16 is 125,047.

As the Preston bridge begins to appear like a bridge, it is a bridge to notice the marks of improvement in the structure. One of the greatest delights of the new and improved passage is the transportation over the ladder which descends from the North side, and of a beam, so happily adapted to a meeting with one's head as he lowers himself that it can be regarded with wonder and admiration.

Work was commenced yesterday on the extension of the wharf of the Norwich and Worcester Railroad Co. A line was stretched about twelve feet from the wharf and a diver descended to locate the new piles.

Thursday, June 2, 1870—At a meeting of the friends of temperance which was held in Temperance hall last evening for the purpose of nominating an independent temperance ticket for the approaching city election the following ticket was placed in the field: Mayor, A. R. Bingham; aldermen, Silas Higgins and R. J. Greene; councilmen, N. G. Lippitt, L. A. Gallup, Albertus Packham and George Kie; treasurer, B. B. Whittemore; clerk, N. H. Robinson; sheriff, J. P. Davis; James Ritchie; water commissioner, N. S. Gilbert.

On Market street yesterday a report was circulated that a woman was passing smoking a cigar. Men rushed to the doors and windows, boys cheered and shouted when she came by with a man. The couple had one cigar and one disturbed by the excitement their appearance ceased they calmly smoked in turn, the female taking her full share. It was thought about 10 o'clock last evening that a cry of fire was heard, and a crowd quickly gathered out in front of The Bulletin Building, only to learn their error. It was rather a severe joke on the four young men who were singing and whose music was taken for an alarm.

Friday, June 3, 1870—The constitutional amendment, making Hartford the sole capital of the state failed to receive the necessary two thirds vote in the house yesterday. The total "yeas" was 139 and the "nays" 101. New London county voted 13 for the amendment and 9 against it.

The canvassing of candidates for this year's election has been quite lively during the past few days. It has been generally understood till yesterday that Mayor Blackstone would expect a re-nomination as it was desired he should by a large number of his friends. It was reported yesterday, however, that he had given a final refusal. If this be correct, C. C. Crowell and Gordon C. Cottrell remain the most prominent candidates.

Saturday, June 4, 1870—The republican caucus at Treadway hall last evening was one of the largest and best gatherings of its kind ever held in the city. Judged by the vote cast, 253, it was probably the largest city caucus on record in Norwich. The following ticket was nominated:

For mayor, C. C. Crowell; aldermen, P. S. M. and Andrew and Nathan S. Gilbert; councilmen, Enid F. Chapman, J. P. Learned, Asa Nash and Simon G. Richmond; true men, Charles V. Voth; clerk, John L. Devotion; sheriffs, James J. McCord and Joab B. Rogers; water commissioner, A. S. Smith.

A man who appeared on Laurel Hill yesterday. After rushing through the streets of that favored spot, he came to the bridge where he lay down frothing at the mouth. Several boys crossing the bridge discovered him, and a well directed brick laid him low. But the party not satisfied with this tied a stone to his tail and threw him into the river.

The race between Capt. Lovell's Shoo Fly and Mr. Osgood's Cuba came off yesterday. The Cuba started away from the dock in the lead and maintained her position till near Waldron's Island when the Shoo Fly which is larger by several feet over all, distanced her and returned to the dock. The time occupied in traversing the entire course of 10 miles was about two hours.

VOLUNTEERS

Memorial day, after a parade and decoration of soldiers' graves in the soldiers' lot, the children of the public schools gave an excellent patriotic program. The address was delivered by Attorney Arthur P. Luby of Norwich and gave pleasure to an audience that filled Union hall.

The parade left Union square at 9 a. m. in the following formation: Goodwill, Mills band, 18 men; school children; flag bearers, Henry Lockwood and Elmer Salsburg, soldiers in uniform; veterans of the world war, representing army and navy, 11 men, in command of Sgt. Henry H. Rice; Court Liberty, No. 1, G. A. R., 50 men, in command of Ranger W. A. McGuire; Court Advance, No. 3335, L. O. P., Chief Ranger John D. Lachapelle; G. A. R. veterans, speakers and ex-soldiers, automobiles. The line moved from Union square down Main street to the Baptist church, counter-marching to church to Robbins cemetery, where the following exercises were carried out: The Star Spangled Banner, by school children and band; prayer, Rev. John Thompson; decoration of soldiers' graves; selection band; song, "Tenting Tonight on the Old Camp Ground," school children; benediction, Rev. John Thompson; Taps, sounded by members of the band.

The line reformed and returned to Union hall, where the members gave a short but enjoyable concert, after which the following program was carried out in a pleasing manner: Medley, War Songs, school; Gettysburg Speech, girls of grammar grades; Our Flag, Jeanne Russell; exercises, The Blue and the Gray, children of intermediate grades; song, Young Americans, children of primary grades; recitation, Sons of the Nation, Dorothy Dupont; flag drill, children of primary grades; recitation, Memorial Day, Della Dupont; song, The Free School, children of the exercises; Chairman, Thomas McDonald; I. F. Hall, E. St. John, Louis H. Ritchie and Cyrus W. Fletcher.

Louis H. Ritchie spent Saturday in Waterville in attendance at the high court convention of the Independent Order of Foresters.

Mr. and Mrs. James Harrington of Norwich were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ritchie.

Then You Have Something to Learn. Those who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonard was first to find the remedy. His prescription is HEM-ROID, a tablet medicine, taken internally, that is now sold by druggists generally. Dr. Leonard tried in 1,000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent, and then decided it should be sold under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from Lee & Osgood today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands of people, and should do the same for you—it seldom fails.
